

The Diploma in Systemic Leadership and Consulting Practice – 2022

This one year course comprises four modules organised into eight two day workshop blocks, developing leadership and consulting skills through use of systemic and group analytic frames for practice. It emphasises how people in organisations contribute, through their interaction, consciously and unconsciously, to the organisational system. It facilitates insight, agency and organisational learning through giving attention to patterns of communication, relationship and culture, enabling an impact on strategies, processes, roles and tasks. It opens up novel and generative approaches originating from the fields of Systemic Family Therapy, Group Analysis and from dialogic organisational development, stimulating innovative, effective and sustainable responses to organisational dilemmas and development tasks.

Early bird fee ends October 31st.
